

SHILOH ESTHER

The general who finally took a DIP

Color. Make. Take a dip.

Ready for a dip?

Print pages 3–4 single-sided at 100%. One general to dunk.

YOU'LL NEED

Pages 3–4, crayons, scissors and glue. Cardstock works best.

Using plain paper? Glue both sheets to thin cereal-box card before cutting.

1 Make him

Color the river and both Naamans.
Ask a grown-up to help cut out the three pieces along the dotted edges.

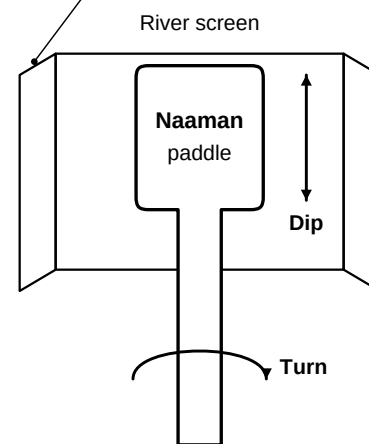

Glue Naaman's two plain backs together. Keep the faces outside.
Line up the edges and let him dry.

Fold the river's side tabs backward along the dashed lines.

2 Hold him

REAR VIEW

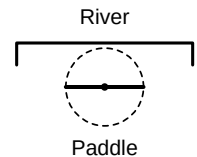

Hold a folded side tab.

Turn only when hidden.

TOP VIEW

Visible side

OPEN REAR

Leave room to turn the paddle.

Hold the river upright by a folded tab.
Keep Naaman about 2 inches behind it so there is room to turn his handle.

3 Dip, dip, dip...

Start with his grumpy face showing.
Lower him until his head disappears.
Lift him back up. Count each dip.
Keep the same face for dips 1–6.

The seventh dip

Hide him again. Turn the handle halfway around while he is hidden.
Then lift his happy face into view.
"Look at me!"

STORY TIME Naaman followed God's instruction to wash seven times.
After the seventh dip, God healed him. Read 2 Kings 5:1–14 together.

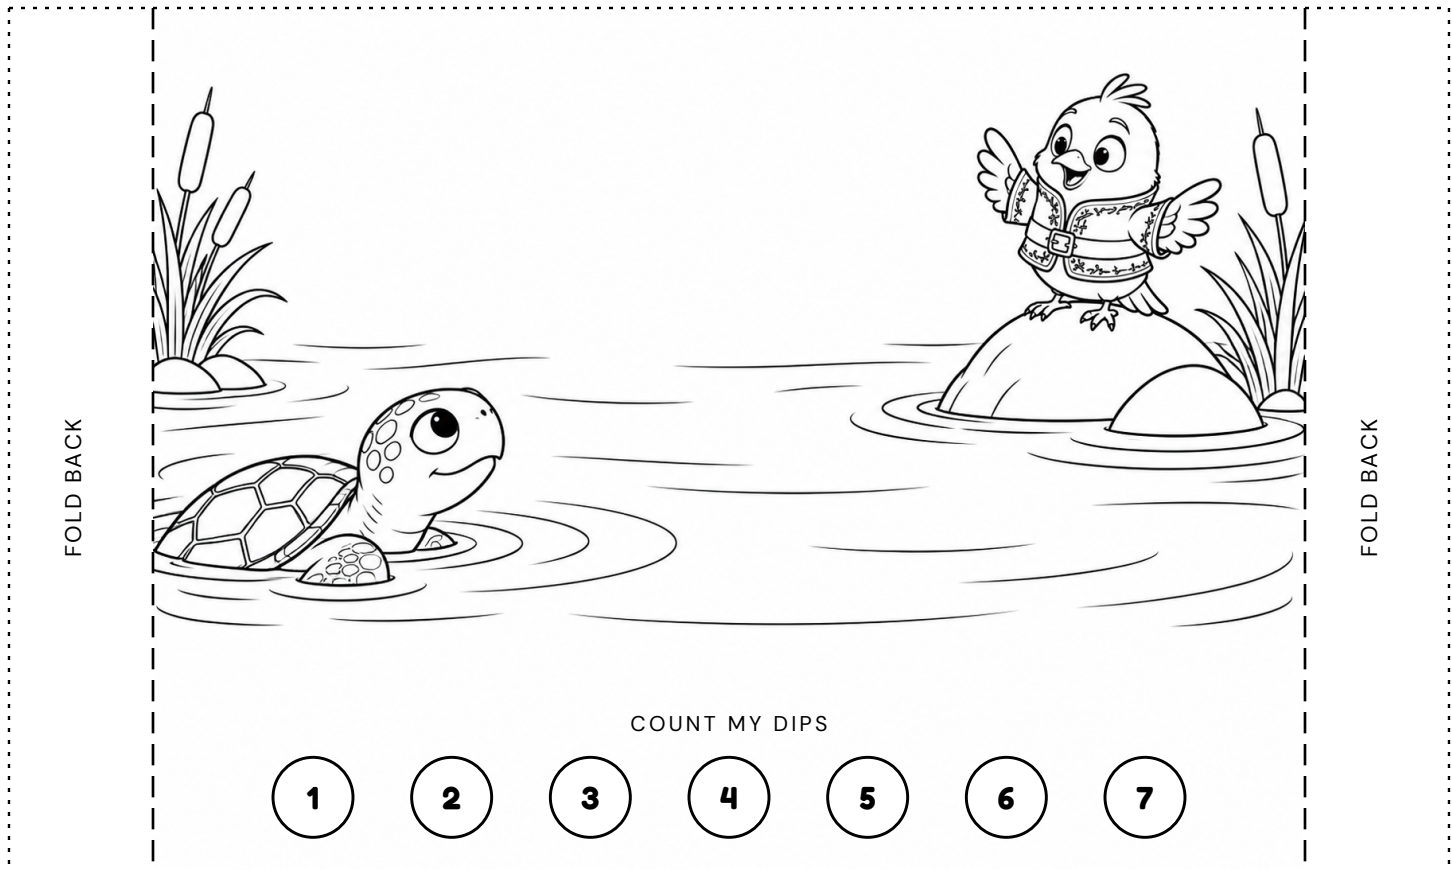

Make a little river

Color first. Cut the dotted edge. Fold both side tabs backward.

--- FOLD

KEEP THE TOP EDGE STRAIGHT

Has he gone under?

His whole head must disappear before he comes up again.

Two faces. One general.

Glue the plain backs together, with both faces on the outside.
